

Smartlam North America through its companies and all its professionals, is committed to creating long-term sustainable value. We understand Sustainability as a transversal and essential axis throughout the organization. Our primary objective is to achieve a company that is more aware and responsible in the use of resources, its impact on the environment, its role in society and the community. All employees of the company are responsible for maintaining our reputation for being sustainable.

In our commitment to sustainability, we have several certifications well known throughout the industry. These include various Certification listed below for both of our Manufacturing facilities at Columbia Falls, MT and Dothan, AL.

- To prove our wood fiber procurement practices are sustainable, we participate in independent certification programs for chain of custody. Both of our manufacturing location are Sustainable Forestry Initiative® (SFI) Chain of Custody (COC) certified.
 - o See SFI COC Certification Here. SFI Website Here.
- To prove our commitment towards sustainability in 2021 we performed and extensive Life Cycle Analysis (LCA) of our manufacturing process at both plants. These extensive LCA's are the basis of creating Environmental Product Declarations (EPD's). The scope of the EPD is a cradle to gate, including raw material extraction and processing, upstream transportation of product manufacture, packaging, energy consumption and waste.
 - o Columbia Falls EPD Here – CLT Product
 - o Dothan EPD Here – CLT and Glulam Product
- SmartLam North America is the first and only CLT manufacture in the US who is USDA Bio-Preferred status. Managed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), the goal of the Bio Preferred Program is to increase the purchase and use of biobased products. The Program's purpose is to spur economic development, create new jobs and provide new markets for farm commodities.
 - o For More Information See Here

Sincerely,

Stephen Tolnai

Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing
Smartlam North America